

This species has been recorded all around the Irish coast and far offshore but has been most often encountered close to land.

Dolphins are very friendly animals. Males live from 25 to 30 years, while females can live for up to 40 years.

Bottlenose Dolphins range in length up to 4.2 metres and have an average weight of approximately 200 kilograms!!

Their colouration is generally a uniform grey with a lighter underside.