

Just for fun!

Today's challenge is a visual literacy challenge. I want you to gather things around your house and spell out your name! The first letter of each word should be the same as each letter in your name. You can see in my example

I have spelled 'Ms. Smith' using things from around the house! This is a tricky one and you might have to think for a while, but that's ok! You can gather a few objects now and keep adding to it throughout the day if you like. Don't forget to take a photo, and have fun!
